Introduction

This document sets out the terms and conditions relating to the offer of a place on your programme at Kent and Medway Medical School (‘KMMS’). KMMS is a collaboration between Canterbury Christ Church University and the University of Kent.

The Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery (‘BM BS’) is jointly awarded by both the University of Kent and Canterbury Christ Church University. Any offer of a place to study at KMMS is made jointly by the University of Kent and Canterbury Christ Church University (‘the Universities’).

The offer to you is on the basis that, in accepting such an offer, you agree to the following terms and conditions which form the contract between you and the Universities.

In discharging our duties, the Universities have agreed that each University has specific and shared administrative duties and accepts joint responsibility for delivering the KMMS programmes.

The terms and conditions will continue to apply for the entire period you are a student with KMMS. You will find the documents referred to in these Terms and Conditions on the KMMS website.

Payment of fees

1. The fees for your programme and details of any proposed annual increases will be as set out in the offer letter. The policy is set out in the statement on Course Fees Increases.

2. It is your responsibility to arrange for the payment of your fees at the beginning of your programme.

3. You will be invoiced by the University of Kent on behalf of the Universities for the full amount or remaining portion of your fees for each year of the programme, unless (for each year of your programme) you have either:
   - financial support via Student Finance England, Wales, Northern Ireland or SAAS; or
   - an official letter from an employer or a sponsor accepting responsibility for the payment of your fees in full or part; or
   - you hold a full or partial tuition fee bursary or scholarship, which will be deducted from the full fee amount.

4. It is your responsibility to ensure that a copy of the appropriate funding documentation as referred to above is submitted to the University of Kent Income Office at enrolment or as soon as possible after that.

5. Should you enrol on the basis you have, or will be applying for, a tuition fee waiver you must pay the full amount due if the application is not approved.

6. If you are self-funding and pay your own fees, you must pay following the process explained in How to Pay Tuition Fees.

7. The University of Kent’s rules regarding payment of sums due, can be found in the Debt Management Procedures. Should you not pay the sums owed, the Universities reserve the right to withdraw all services and/or your right to use their facilities where necessary and proportionate to do so. The University of Kent will consider your circumstances in deciding whether to do so.

Accuracy of information

8. By accepting the offer of a place, you confirm and declare the information provided in support of your admission and enrolment is accurate and complete to the best of your knowledge.

9. The provision of false or misleading information may render your admission and enrolment invalid. It will entitle the University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, to terminate its contract with you.

10. The University of Kent requires all students to provide proof of identity and qualifications before registration. Registration means the entry of an applicant as a student of the KMMS following the successful completion of all checks and the student signing a registration form.

Previous Criminal Convictions

11. Applicants and students must satisfy the course requirements concerning previous criminal convictions.

12. Applicants and students must provide a satisfactory check from the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS). Where such checks are pending at registration, students may be permitted provisional registration, provided the student has already made the application for the relevant checks at the time of registration. Registration is provisional on providing a satisfactory DBS check.

13. Where any pending DBS check later proves unsatisfactory, the University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, reserves the right to terminate the registration and withdraw the student from the course. The student may apply for transfer to another course where a DBS check is not required.

14. Applicants must declare in writing without delay any change in their circumstances regarding any criminal investigation, caution or convictions that may affect their application or registration. The applicant must inform the Admissions Office.

15. It is a condition of registration that the student maintains good standing concerning their behaviour and, where required, subscribes to the criminal record status check service.

16. The student must declare in writing and without delay to the Course Director any criminal investigation, caution, or conviction. The Course Director will advise the student of any action the University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, will need to take given the nature of the offence. There may require a neutral withdrawal of the student from studies pending any necessary investigation.

17. Registration requires that students make a periodic declaration of criminal investigation, caution or convictions and make complete and accurate declarations by the time stated. Failure to make such declarations required concerning criminal investigation, caution or conviction may lead to disciplinary action under the Student Non-Academic Discipline Procedures or Fitness to Practise Procedures.

Fraudulent Applications and Registrations

Applicants

18. The University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, may remove the offer of a place for any applicant who made a materially false statement in the admission process by:
   a. providing false or misleading information and/or
   b. not disclosing information that would have adversely affected the determination of the application.

19. In the event of such a decision, the applicant may appeal following the Admissions Complaints and Appeals Procedure.

Registered Students

20. The University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, may declare void the registration of any student who made a materially false statement in the registration process by:

a. providing false or misleading information and/or
b. not disclosing information that would have adversely affected the determination of the application.

21. The University of Kent, acting on behalf of KMMS, will provide a registered student with a statement of the reasons for declaring void a registration. The student may make representations in writing against a decision to declare void a registration following the Student Complaints Procedure.

22. Such voiding of registrations shall not affect the University’s contractual right to payment for the provision of tuition and other services provided up to the date of the letter giving notification of exclusion.

Communications to and from the Universities and KMMS

23. Enrolment means your initial and provisional admission as a student on a KMMS programme.

24. On enrolment, you will be allocated a KMMS e-mail account. KMMS and the Universities will send all e-mail communications to that account. You must use that account for all communications with KMMS and the Universities.

25. You must check your KMMS e-mail account regularly and, in any event, at least once a week. Any communication sent to your KMMS e-mail account will be regarded as properly sent and received by you.

KMMS Regulations

26. By accepting the offer of a place, you agree to comply with the provisions of all the [KMMS Regulations for BMBS] (“the Regulations”). These apply to all KMMS students. During your programme, the Regulations may be amended from time to time. There is a further explanation of the process in paragraphs 33-37 below.

27. The key provisions of the Regulations of which you should be aware include:

a. The expectations regarding student attendance, academic integrity, and academic progress. These are set out in the Attendance and Engagement Policy and Academic Misconduct Procedures. If you do not meet these expectations, you may not be permitted to progress on your programme.

b. The rules regarding academic misconduct, including plagiarism and the processes utilised to detect plagiarism can be found in the Academic Misconduct Procedures. Breach of these rules may result in the initiation of a disciplinary process against you and the imposition of academic penalties and/or expulsion from your programme of study and the Universities.

c. The rules governing criminal convictions as set out below. It explains the expectations of when you need to disclose criminal convictions. It explains action that is taken following disclosure. In extreme cases, this might result in expulsion from the programme.

d. Expectations of student behaviour are set out in the Non-academic Discipline Procedures. Breach of these Regulations could result in the initiation of a disciplinary process against you. It can lead to sanctions, including expulsion from your programme of study and the Universities.

e. The KMMS Low-Level Concerns, Fitness to Study and Fitness to Practise Policy describes the steps taken if concerns about your health and wellbeing raise questions about your fitness and suitability to continue to study.

f. The Low-Level Concerns, Fitness to Study and Fitness to Practise procedure governs the fitness to practise arrangements. A failure to observe these requirements may call into question your fitness to practise. It may result in the initiation of a disciplinary process against you. It can lead to the imposition of sanctions, including expulsion from your programme of study and the Universities.

g. The requirement to undergo an enhanced Disclosure Barring Service check before enrolment and the statutory requirements regarding disqualification by association. Depending on the outcome of these checks, you may not be eligible to enrol, or continue, on your programme of study.

Complaints and Appeals

28. There is a KMMS Admissions Complaints policy and procedure. This policy applies to all applicants to the programme of study. It also applies if you were a student on a previous programme of study at either of the Universities and subsequently applied to KMMS.

29. There is a Student Protection Plan for both the University of Kent and Canterbury Christ Church University. Our Plans explain how we manage risks relating to the education we deliver. We explain the actions we would take if there was a risk to you continuing your studies. We describe how we would communicate with you and support you if these events should happen.

30. As a KMMS student, you can use the KMMS Student Complaints Procedure. You should refer to the KMMS complaints procedure if you wish to raise a complaint.

31. As a KMMS student, you can use the KMMS Appeals Procedure to make an appeal relating to our academic and professional decision-making. You should refer to the KMMS Appeals Procedure if you wish to appeal.

32. Both Universities are members of the Independent Adjudication for Higher Education (OIA) Scheme. After completing the internal KMMS procedures, you will be issued a single completion of procedures letter. You can ask the OIA to review your complaint or appeal after completion of the internal procedures. The OIA Scheme does not apply to admissions appeals and complaints.

Changes to Regulations

33. The Universities reserve the right to add to, delete or make reasonable changes to the Regulations where this will assist in the proper delivery of education. Changes are usually made for one or more of the following reasons:

- To review and update the Regulations to ensure they are fit for purpose;
- To reflect changes in the external environment, including legal or regulatory changes, changes to funding or financial arrangements or changes to government policy, requirements, or guidance;
- To incorporate sector guidance or best practice and changes required by the General Medical Council;
- To incorporate feedback from students;
- To aid clarity or consistency of approach.

34. If there is a change to published material information relating to the Regulations when you are an applicant, the following terms apply:

a. There is to be a notification at the earliest possible opportunity to you of the decision to change the programme, setting out the nature of the change, the reasons, and the impact. It is conveyed in a way that will enable you to decide whether the programme remains suitable and whether you should consider an alternative programme.

b. Where reasonable, the Universities will offer you a suitable replacement
c. The Universities will include a notification of your right to withdraw the application. In the event of a withdrawal, there would be an appropriate refund of any course fees already paid.

35. If there is a change to published material information relating to the regulations when you are a student, the following terms apply:

a. The Universities will inform you at the earliest possible opportunity of the decision to propose a change to the programme in a way that results in a variation of the material information previously published to you.

b. The Universities will engage in appropriate, active consultation, which can be evidenced, to seek the views of each student on the programme potentially affected by the proposal to change the programme.

c. The Universities will consider the expressed views of all students before deciding whether to proceed with the proposal or a modified proposal.

d. Where reasonable, the Universities will offer a suitable replacement programme to any student affected by the decision to change the programme who remains dissatisfied with the changed programme offering.

e. Where appropriate, the Universities will offer any student affected by the decision to change the programme who remains dissatisfied with the changed programme offering the right to withdraw from the programme.

f. In the event of a withdrawal from the programme, and where applicable, there will be an appropriate refund of course fees in line with the University of Kent Tuition Fee Refund arrangements.

36. Any changes will normally occur at the start of the following academic year. Exceptionally, the changes may be introduced during the academic year when the Universities reasonably consider this to be in the interests of students following consultation. Immediate changes might be required by law or regulatory changes required by an external body such as the General Medical Council. All reasonable steps will be taken to minimise disruption to students, for example, by giving reasonable notice of changes to Regulations before they take effect, or by phasing in the changes.

37. The updated Regulations will be made available on the KMMS website. They may be publicised by other means so that students are made aware of any changes.

Disability and Reasonable Adjustments

38. The Universities are committed to providing an inclusive and accessible environment and strive to make reasonable adjustments to accommodate individual needs. Notifying us of a disability early in the recruitment process enables engagement with you and discussion of your support needs.

39. When you apply, you should notify the University of Kent of any disability that may impact your ability to complete the programme and be fit to practise on completion of your studies. We are more likely to implement reasonable adjustments promptly if you notify us of any disability early in the recruitment process and engage in any necessary discussions or health assessments.

Occupational Health

40. Any offer to study is conditional upon a satisfactory Occupational Health assessment.

41. When you are a student, you will be required to make an annual declaration of good character and annually confirm that you remain in good health. If there has been a change in your health, you will be required to undertake a fresh Occupational Health assessment.

Disclaimers

42. The Universities will do all that we reasonably can to provide educational services as described on the KMMS website or in the prospectus or other documents issued by KMMS and the Universities to enrolled students. Sometimes circumstances beyond our control means that we cannot provide such educational services. Examples of such circumstances include:

a. industrial action by KMMS and the Universities’ staff or third parties;

b. the unanticipated departure or absence of key members of University staff;

c. power failure;

d. acts of terrorism;

e. damage to buildings or equipment;

f. the acts of any governmental or local authority.

43. In any of the circumstances set out in paragraph 42 (a) to (f) inclusive, the Universities will take all reasonable steps to minimise the resultant disruption to those services and affected students by, for example, offering affected students the chance to move to another programme or institution, or by delivering a modified version of the same programme, but to the full extent that is possible under the general law the Universities excludes liability for any loss and/or damage suffered by any applicant or student as a result of those circumstances.

44. The Universities will use all reasonable endeavours to deliver the programme as described in the prospectus for the academic year you begin the programme. However, the Universities will be entitled to make reasonable changes to the programme where that will enable the delivery of a better quality of educational experience to students enrolled on the programme. Such changes may be to:

   a. the content and syllabus of programmes, including about placements;
   b. the timetable, location, and number of classes;
   c. the timing, content, or method of delivery of programmes of study;
   d. the examination and assessment process.

45. In making any changes under the above paragraph, the Universities will aim to keep the changes to the minimum necessary to achieve the required quality of experience. They will inform and consult with affected students about any required changes. If the Universities change your programme and you are not satisfied with the changes, you will be offered the opportunity to withdraw from the programme, move to another programme and, if required, reasonable support to transfer to another provider.

46. KMMS works in partnership with the Brighton and Sussex Medical School (BSMS) for support and quality assurance. If the decision is made to discontinue the KMMS, an agreed contingency plan is in place to sustain the student experience. BSMS agreed to transfer all KMMS students onto the Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery degree offered by BSMS if required. As such, students would become University of Brighton and University of Sussex students. These would become the awarding institutions upon the student’s satisfactory completion of the BMBS degree.

47. The Universities do not exclude or limit in any way their liability for:

   a. death or personal injury caused by its negligence or the negligence of their employees, agents, or subcontractors;
   b. fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.

48. The Universities do not accept responsibility, and expressly exclude liability, to the fullest extent possible under the general law for loss or damage to students’ property or infection of students’ equipment caused by computer viruses, and for the consequences of any such damage.

Data Protection

49. When you apply to and register with the University of Kent for a KMMS programme, KMMS and the Universities will use the personal information you gave us. The University of Kent will share your personal data with KMMS and Canterbury Christ Church University. We explain how we do this in the KMMS Privacy Notice. We explain where we may pass personal information to third parties, including placement providers.

50. KMMS and the Universities use the information we hold to process your registration, keep in touch with you and provide services and facilities. It must be correct. You need to keep your personal information up to date. You can do this by telling us of any changes or errors. You must notify us promptly if you change your name, your resident country, or your contact details.

51. Before updating its records, the University of Kent may ask you to provide evidence of the change.

52. The University of Kent will pass certain personal information to the Christ Church Students’ Union and Kent Students’ Union. We do this under a data transfer agreement. The reason is to enable you to use the Students’ Unions’ facilities and services. You can ask the University of Kent not to pass the information to the Students’ Unions by e-mailing EMS@kent.ac.uk.

Visa Requirements for Overseas Students

53. If you are an overseas student, you may need a student visa to take up your place at KMMS. Further information about visas is available.

54. If you require an Academic Technology Approval Scheme (ATAS) certificate, you will need to ensure you have obtained this before making your visa application. Failure to have your ATAS certificate (if applicable) at the time of your visa application can lead to a visa refusal. Further information about ATAS is available.

Cancellation rights

Right to Cancel

55. You have a statutory right to cancel this contract without giving any reason. The cancellation period will expire after 14 days from the day you accept the offer of a place at KMMS.

56. To exercise the right to cancel, you must inform the University of Kent of your decision to cancel this contract by a clear statement (e.g. a letter sent by post or e-mail). Alternatively, you can send an e-mail to EMS@kent.ac.uk.

57. To meet the cancellation deadline, it is enough for you to send your communication concerning your exercise of the right to cancel before the cancellation period has expired.

Effect of Cancellation

58. If you cancel this contract as set out above, the University of Kent will reimburse all payments received. The University of Kent will make the reimbursement without undue delay, and no later than 14 days after the day it is informed about your decision to cancel this contract.

59. The University of Kent will make the reimbursement using the same means of payment as you used for the initial transaction; in any event, you will not incur any fees due to the reimbursement.

Cancellation After the Statutory Cancellation Period

60. If you cancel the contract after the statutory cancellation period has expired, the University of Kent will not refund payments received from you. Depending on when you cancel the contract, particularly whether it is before or after enrolment, you may be obliged to pay a proportion of your tuition fees, as set out in the Debt Management Procedures.

Programmes that begin within the Statutory Cancellation period

61. If your programme is due to begin within 14 days from the date you accept the offer of a place at KMMS (for example, if you have applied through adjustment or clearing) then, by accepting the offer of the place, you are expressly agreeing the service should begin within the cancellation period. If you subsequently decide to cancel the contract within the cancellation period, you will be liable to pay a proportion of fees to cover the period from the commencement of the Universities’ services to you to the date of cancellation, as set out in the Debt Management Procedures.

General
62. If any provision of the contract between you and the Universities is held to be void or unenforceable in whole or in part by any court or other competent authority, that contract shall continue to be valid as to the other provisions contained in it and/or the remainder of the affected provision.

63. The contract between you and the Universities shall be governed by and construed under the laws of England and Wales. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

64. This contract does not confer third-party benefits for the purposes of the Contract (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.
